

Catch Cuarteto Farol at the Limestone Amphitheatre this Sunday.

Music

WORLDLY tunes by Cuarteto Farol will set the mood for this Sunday's Melville Limestone Summer Concert.

The band is influenced by music from Argentina and Africa.

Jeffrey Harrold plays guitar and double bass, Mingo Herrera the bandoneon, Leon Pratt the bass and Miranda Wageman the violin.

City of Melville cultural development officer Dee Skuza said more than 200 people attended the first concert of the season on the first Sunday of November. "The concerts are becoming very popular as they provide an opportunity to take time out after a busy week and weekend," Ms Skuza said.

"Family and friends can enjoy the tranquil surrounds of the amphitheatre, the beautiful summer night and music from around the world."

The free concert will be held at the Limestone Amphitheatre, in the Civic Centre Square behind Garden City Shopping Centre, Booragoon, from 5.30pm to 7pm on Sunday.
