Last week, May 17th Meeting 1368, scribe Shane Chilcott

Tonight we enjoyed a very entertaining and informal evening courtesy of David and Julie Hollonds at their most palatial Gazebo/outdoor entertainment area they have off to the side of their main residence in Wurruk. A large group of members and partners enjoyed the hospitality of our hosts and the fellowship of the other people in attendance.

The entertainment for the night was the large raffle conducted where almost every one won a prize but the major prize was won by Hugo; we all hope that Hugo and Robyn enjoy their meal at the Irish Pub. Dinner for the evening was provided courtesy of the GO Youth committee who had frozen leftover meat. Salads were provided by the hosts and sweets by the member's partners who were able to attend the night. Judging by the number of wine bottles scattered around the outside area it would be safe to assume that the fellowship and banter between one and all was extremely entertaining. David's most recent purchase of the gas outdoor patio heater was a major attraction and worked extremely efficiently at warming the people gathered around it.

A note for the SGT: How many people took the wrong turn or drove past our venue before backtracking to the only place with 500 lights beaming which would indicate to most people that there is a function on in that locale?

The evening concluded at around 9.00pm when President John thanked everyone for their attendance and once again thanked our hosts for their hospitality.
