Meeting 1374, scribe: Scott Rossetti

Commandant Kluge Chairman

Kluge was an expert chairman for the night – having a German Pope obviously rubbed off on our Peter as he controlled the microphone with his usual aplomb! The sergeants wanted to avoid a fine session but were howled down.

Speedy John Castle and Behind the Badge

Pam Castle was born at a very young age. She has a great taste in Aussie Manhood according to John. He dragged her to Sale when she was 8 months in the pudding club. Two kids at uni – with mum's brains and dad's money.

Thirty three cars owned between the two – three owned by Pam and thirty by John Known around the office as “She who writes the cheques” and John thinks he is the boss. Lovely lady with a heart of gold, and a surrogate mother for many in Sale.

Has caught a bit of petrol-head ness from her husband as have the children.

Amendments/adjustments of B TB for Pam Castle

Pam was born, and she was very studious. Both of her kids are at Uni on Dad-study. She moved to Sale in 1982 just before she had Erin. “She writes the cheques in our business” I which I am the boss, I have Pam's permission to say so.... Great assets of Pam, her strengths compliment her weaknesses. Pam is a great mother and surrogate mum to half of Sale's kids.

Director's Reports

Leo Morrissy Report Glasses night next week at Hugo's place

Garry reminded us about changeover night next week – 6.30 for 7. 62 people replied as going.

Michael Page asked for volunteers to help with Go Youth – not necessarily to go to the weekend – there are all sorts of other jobs to be done before and after.

Spitfire Gregory's Fine Session

Jim Pennell's fetish with Fur Lined shoes saw him carrying the money tin.

Exam Question

The following is an actual question given on a University of Washington chemistry mid-term. The answer by one student was so "profound" that the professor shared it with colleagues, via the Internet, which is, of course, why we now have the pleasure of enjoying it as well.

Bonus Question: Is Hell exothermic (gives off heat) or endothermic (absorbs heat)?

Most of the students wrote proofs of their beliefs using Boyle's Law (gas cools when it expands and heats when it is compressed) or some variant. One student, however, wrote the following:

First, we need to know how the mass of Hell is changing in time. So we need to know the rate at which souls are moving into Hell and the rate at which they are leaving. I think that we can safely assume that once a soul gets to Hell, it will not leave. Therefore, no souls are leaving. As for how many souls are entering Hell, let's look at the different Religions that exist in the world today. Most of these religions state that if you are not a member of their religion, you will go to Hell. Since there is more than one of these religions and since people do not belong to more than one religion, we can project that all souls go to Hell.

With birth and death rates as they are, we can expect the number of souls in Hell to increase exponentially. Now, we look at the rate of change of the volume in Hell because Boyle's Law states that in order for the temperature and pressure in Hell to stay the same, the volume of Hell has to expand proportionately as souls are added.

This gives two possibilities:

1. If Hell is expanding at a slower rate than the rate at which souls enter Hell, then the temperature and pressure in Hell will increase until all Hell breaks loose.
2. If Hell is expanding at a rate faster than the increase of souls in Hell, then the temperature and pressure will drop until Hell freezes over.

So which is it?

If we accept the postulate given to me by Teresa during my Freshman year that, "it will be a cold day in Hell before I sleep with you, and take into account the fact that I slept with her last night, then number 2 must be true, and thus I am sure that Hell is exothermic and has already frozen over. The corollary of this theory is that since Hell has frozen over, it follows that it is not accepting any more souls and is therefore, extinct...leaving only Heaven thereby proving the existence of a divine being which explains why, last night, Teresa kept shouting "Oh my God."

THIS STUDENT RECEIVED THE ONLY "A"
Cards started and the scribe did a runner.....
